In our weekly list of business people on the move, we highlight Palm Beach County professionals who are making a difference. These are people from across the spectrum of public and private endeavors, those working in charities, court houses, private practices and beyond. They are moving up within their industry, advancing their careers and standing out for their services within our community.

Here are this week's professional standouts:

Women's Foundation of Florida appoints COO

The Women's Foundation of Florida recently named Jennifer Kryshka as its first-ever chief operating officer. As only the second full-time staff member for the growing statewide organization, Kryshka will help elevate the foundation to the next level with her over 20 years of nonprofit experience. Most recently, Kryshka served as CEO of Herizon in West Palm Beach. Based in West Palm Beach, the Women's Foundation of Florida empowers women and girls to be leaders so they can change the world. Through grants, programs, and training, they invest in change agents who strengthen their communities and create a positive impact.

Selfless Love Foundation names executive director

Selfless Love Foundation recently welcomed Ted Keyser as its new executive director. He will oversee the people and programs that allow the Jupiter-based non-profit to impact children in foster care and youth who age out of the system. As part of SLF's expansion plan, Keyser is based in Texas. He brings more than a decade of child welfare experience, having served as the executive director for a Texas-based foster care and adoption non-profit. Selfless Love Foundation is a proven leader in child welfare in the state of Florida. Since 2015, the organization has helped to connect hundreds of children with forever families, supported thousands of youth aging out of foster care, and advocated for systems-level changes.

PBC Health Care District welcomes six physicians

The Health Care District of Palm Beach County has announced the addition of six accomplished physicians to its dedicated team of professionals. Dr. Jose Hernandez Garcia, Dr. Michael Zhang, Dr. Claudia Isabella Tussey, Dr. Joshua Adametz, Dr. Patrick J. Regan and Dr. Ana Bernard bring a wealth of experience and expertise, further enhancing the Health Care District's commitment to providing top-quality health care services to the community. The Health Care District of Palm Beach County is a special taxpayer-funded district that has served as a health care safety net for 36 years to fill in gaps in access to health care services.

Gulfstream Goodwill names new CEO

The board of directors for Gulfstream Goodwill Industries has announced changes to the nonprofit service agency's leadership. Karen Davidson has been promoted from CFO and chief administrative officer to the role of CEO. Former CEO Keith Kennedy, following a five-year tenure, is moving on to explore the next phase of his professional career. Gulfstream Goodwill Industries is a private, non-profit agency serving Palm Beach, Martin, St. Lucie, Indian River and Okeechobee Counties for over 50 years.

Flagler Technologies adds sales engineer

Flagler Technologies, a fast-growing technology company in the Southeast dedicated to helping clients across many verticals including financial, health care, manufacturing, education, retail, media and entertainment, recently hired Christopher Goodwin. He will fill the role of sales engineer, responsible for building growth, and will work out of the company's Boca Raton headquarters. Before this role, Goodwin held positions at Dell Technologies, Chewy.com and Metropolis Technologies.

ACCF names chief operating officer

The Achievement Centers for Children and Families (ACCF), serving Delray Beach and southern Palm Beach County since 1969, has announced the promotion of Jalesa Worthen to the position of chief operating officer. Having served as the director of early learning programs at ACCF for the past two years, Worthen brings an extensive knowledge of the organization. Based in Delray Beach, Achievement Centers for Children & Families has programming that helps prepare participants for academic and social success and inspires them to discover their talents and build life skills.
